Ninety years since Donald Duncan saw his first yo-yo return in California, the Duncan Toys Company is celebrating the anniversary in 2019.

From its beginnings in 1929 with a team of Filipino demonstrators carving wooden yo-yos in California to today’s worldwide team of elite competitors, Duncan has rooted itself in developing and promoting the best selling yo-yos in the world.

Prior to the plastic models, in 1946 Duncan moved to Luck, Wisconsin, where they produced 3,600 wooden yo-yos per hour, quickly becoming known as the Yo-Yo Capital of the World. After manufacturing Duncan’s first plastic yo-yo models, in 1968, Duncan was acquired by current owner, Flambeau Inc. The rise in yo-yo models quickly mounted up with different designs for different types of tricks. And then in the 1990s, the amount of tricks when the ball-bearing axle design was added to yo-yos.

Over the last 9 decades the US has seen many “ups and downs” with the nostalgic toy; however, the classic Duncan Imperial and Butterfly yo-yos have become household names as they been recognized as one of the most value in play for its price. Where else can one get hours on hours of play time for a toy under $10. In 1999, A&E identified the Duncan yo-yo as the number one toy of all time.

Today, Duncan’s promotional arm extends beyond the traditional demonstrations and schools with social media, apps with tutorials, and partnerships with Disney®, Disney Springs® and Scouts (formerly Boy Scouts of America). In celebrating the 90th Anniversary, monthly launches of limited edition yo-yo models will be available. In addition, the World Yo-Yo Contest will be held in their backyard in Cleveland, Ohio, on August

From boomerangs, balls, and brain games to USB charged fighter planes and basketball sets, Duncan now offers an entire range of skill and activity based toys.
